

A fancy lady

The club split into teams for this evening's exercise. Ken having outlined the exercise and made a start on what is a simple idea. Use three rotation points for your turning.

These just 12.5 mm apart mean you can create bulges as opposed to the normal straight run cylinder.

Teams then tried to make a Spanish lady or a 'disreputable' lady. The head uses the centre point at both ends. Then switch to one offset for the body followed by switching to the opposite offset for the lower body.

As nearly everyone found these simple instructions give you three distinct cylinders which you then have to shape and meld together. You do need some good sandpaper and a fair amount of elbow grease to smooth out the interfaces.

Then the three teams got to try and create an outline of a “lady”

There were just three teams ‘competing’ for honours although you cannot see it from the photos the progress was mixed.

News from afar so to speak

Andy Dalloway from Dudley has written to one of our members stating that he has had an accident at work which has more or less put paid to him doing any wood turning. This means he has a garage full of various size blanks from 14 inch down to pen turning blanks. These are going at quite cheap rates. You need to contact Nick Milton for any enquiries.
